Last Stand In Kootenay Flooding

CRESTON, B.C. (CP) — Soldiers and farmers from the U.S. and Canada have joined in a last stand to combat rising floodwaters, disregarding the international boundary between the Kootenay Valley of south-eastern B.C. and northern Idaho.

United States immigration officials threw open the border Tuesday to permit 80 Canadians, including 37 members of the Queen's Own Rifles from Calgary to rush to endangered dikes.

There is a common interest in saving the rich valley from the swollen Kootenay River which flows north to Kootenay Lake.

Reclaimed from the river many years ago and considered one of the most fertile areas in the Pacific northwest, the valley slopes gently from the south, so that flooding in the U.S. is bound to spread to the Canadian section.

U.S. officials Tuesday night reported 3,400 acres of farmland inundated south of the border and said water was blowing over the tops of the dikes in many places where they still held.

SITUATION CRITICAL

All districts from Bonners Ferry, Idaho, to the border, 40 miles north, are critical, said flood co-ordinator Dayton Douglas.

On the B.C. side the dikes still hold fast and 200 soldiers were at work with sandbags and dump trucks, assisting civil defence volunteers and farmers to build them up.

At least 50 families have been compelled to evacuate their homes in the Bonners Ferry area but so far there have been no evacuations reported in Canada. Only half a dozen families live in the 32,000 acre tract threatened by the floods.

Much of the affected land is owned by farmers who live on higher ground in this community.

BILL TO CURB GOOFBALL TRAFFICKING GOES THROUGH

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons gave final approval today to a government bill to curb trafficking in barbiturates and amphetamines — the drugs that make "goofballs."

The house also gave final approval to two other bills. The first extends to September, 1962, the Combines Act exemption granted by the federal government to suspected price-fixing arrangements between British Columbia fishermen and packing companies.

The second provides for the appointment of one new member of the Exchequer Court of Canada, two puisne judges to the Quebec Superior Court, one member of the B.C. Appeal Court, two Ontario county court judges and one district court judge in Alberta.

JFK May Soon Announce Change In A-Test Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to announce soon a major turn in policy on U.S. atomic tests, long under a self-imposed moratorium.

Authoritative sources indicated the new policy, shaping up as a result of the apparent failure of the Geneva test talks, will be to resume underground U.S. nuclear explosions if this serves the national interests.

These sources said the United States would continue to attend the long-drawn-out Geneva conference as long as the Russians want to talk there.

The U.S. would not necessarily proceed with A-blasts but would not regard itself as bound by a moratorium because the talks were still continuing, it was stated.

Kennedy said Tuesday night no hope emerged from his talk with Premier Khrushchev. Rather, he said, the Soviet on a Red veto for test ban con-leader made clear his insistence that machinery and other conditions unacceptable to the West. Kennedy said the Geneva negotiations "appeared futile."

Technically, the United States has been free to resume testing since President Eisenhower lifted a moratorium at the end of 1959. However all three of the atomic powers at the Geneva talks—Russia, Britain and the United States—have followed a no-testing policy since the parley began in 1958.

U.S. All Set To Walk Out Of Peace Talks On Laos

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is seriously considering leaving the Geneva conference on Laos in view of the continued violations of the cease-fire agreement, officials said today.

State department experts were consulting on the latest developments, particularly the rebel seizure of Padong, a tiny mountain village which had been considered a symbol of government resistance.

"We are aware of recent serious developments, including the fall of Padong, and our experts now are consulting," state department press officer Joseph Reap told a press conference. Reap was asked about news dispatches from Geneva saying that Western delegations, angered by the violations of the cease-fire, had called their capitals for new instructions and to find out whether there is any point in continuing the conference.

Reap would not acknowledge that such a cable had reached the department.

Nevertheless, high ranking officials said, the state department considers the fall of Padong an unmistakable sign of Communist bad faith and a deliberate, unprovoked violation of the cease-fire agreement.

CF-100s Were Sold As Scrap

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Production Minister O'Hanley reported today that the CF-100s the government sold to Manitoba scrap dealer J. L. McMaster are just that—complete scrap.

He was replying to questions in the Commons about press reports quoting Mr. McMaster, of Westbourne, Man., as saying the 11 planes could be flown. The minister said the planes were sold as 220,000 pounds of scrap for $3,413.

Bridges, Roads, Orchards Hit By Surprise Storm

Kelowna's worst flooding since 1948 left in its wake a trail of damp-damaged homes, rain-and-hail hit orchards, at least one damaged bridge, a power failure, and several slides.

Damage was the result of a record June downpour Tuesday when an unexpected .86 inches of rain deluged the area.

At least four homes in Mission have been left surrounded by the two to three-foot flood waters and this morning the water had only inches to go until it entered the living room of one house. One family has evacuated temporarily.

A power pole was washed out on Paret Road but West Kootenay crews managed to free the lines before the pole was swept away.

Rising Sawmill Creek threatened a number of houses, and RCMP called for volunteers to attempt to stem the rise of the creek.

Mill Creek rose 18 inches yesterday, probably one of the highest points ever reached in less than 24 hours rise.

Henry Herzog, resident near Kelowna (Mill) Creek who keeps a check on the level, says he has never seen the creek rise so quickly in such a short time. It has risen to 24 inches, but always over a longer period.

Kelowna, Mission and Sawmill creeks, usually placid, today are carrying an overload of runoff water.

Debris from up-creek has been kept from piling up at bridges by city work crews using long pike-poles.

The approaches of the Casorso Bridge on Mission Creek have been washed out, and the trees carried by the rampaging creek have piled up in a jam under the bridge.

Highways department reported this morning that no roads in this area have been washed out. A spokesman for the department said a number of complaints have been telephoned in.

Slide Blocks Roadway

West Kootenay Power Co. said no service has been stopped to any area. Power was off Tuesday for 15 minutes.

In Rutland, long-time residents report that never before had it rained so hard. In the Belgo wide gullies were cut in several hillside orchards and in one case part of the Basran Singh orchard slid on to the Joe Rich road. This slide, it is understood, has now been cleared.

Hail was of short duration in Rutland, although it apparently did considerable damage to some apple and cherry orchards. Several specimens of badly halved apples were shown in Kelowna this morning. However, damage assessment has not yet been made.

Sawmill Creek is a short creek and is subject to flash floods. These end as quickly as they commence and it is anticipated that with the clearing skies today this creek will rapidly subside.

Mission Creek, however, is a different story. It drains a considerable watershed and is the largest creek flowing into Okanagan Lake. It can be expected to remain high for some days, although it may drop slightly if the rain in the mountains has stopped.

In Glenora Brant Creek rose to its highest in recent years. At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday the creek showed signs of rising rapidly, and by 9 p.m., it was so swollen that some culverts were completely filled. By 2 a.m. this morning the creek showed signs of levelling off, and at 7 a.m. was slowly subsiding.

Several orchards in Glenora became partially inundated by the flood water as it rushed down the hills, and some damage was inflicted on young trees. Public works crews of the city patrolled Brant Creek during the night to ensure that no culverts became plugged, or prevent flooding.

Downtown Vernon Areas Suffer From Big Deluge

In Vernon the heaviest rain-fall in more than 10 years spilled a record .96 inches of rain over night.

It flooded areas of Thirtieth Street, Thirty-Third Street and Thirty-Fourth Street at Barnard Avenue, dumping water into a grocery store, bowling alley, a photographer's studio and a hotel barber's shop.

Other minor flooding was reported at the Junior High School and Vernon Senior High.

Two major arterial highways, the Big Bend, 55 miles west of Golden, and Number 6 Highway between Needles and Nakusp, were cut by flood waters.

Heavy rains also severed the road between Mabel Lake and Lumby.

The slashing downpour caused a temporary power failure. Government weather man Frank Reade reported that .96 inches of rain fell from 5 p.m. Tuesday to 8:30 a.m. today.

Previous high for 12 hours since early 1950 was on June 12, 1953, when .91 inches fell in the same period.

In the 24-hour period ending at 8:30, 1.14 inches fell, said Mr. Reade. Previous high, in June of 1953, was .94.

"This is an extremely heavy rainfall," he said.

Similar reports were filtering in this morning from as far away as Lumby and Enderby. Hardest hit by the flooding in Vernon was Del Mar Lane bowling alley, at 3321 Barnard Avenue.

Canada May Bypass U.S. Curbs On Grain Exports

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada hopes to have its own grain-handling equipment in three weeks to replace machinery denied by United States law for use in unloading wheat-carrying tankers at Red Chinese ports, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today.

He told the House of Commons an intensive shopping campaign indicates an Ontario firm can do the job and that there will be no interruption of east-coast shipments of grain to China. He added that Canada must recognize the right of the United States to enforce provisions of legislation on American companies inside the U.S.

But Canada was concerned at any action affecting the grain trade.

REPORTS EXAGGERATED

He said reports of the whole incident have been blown out of proportion.

His statement to the Commons followed word Tuesday that U.S. law forbids sale of certain U.S.-made machinery to ships carrying wheat to China under charter.

The machinery is a $12,000 suction - unloader needed on tankers because of inadequate dock facilities in Red Chinese ports. Existing U.S. law bans trade with Red China and the chartered tankers are regarded as Red Chinese instruments.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that the Canadian machine will have a daily capacity of 300 tons—only half that of the U.S. model. Talks were being held today with the Canadian Shipping Federation to work out new timetables.

The government's trade commissioners were shopping around the United Kingdom and Europe for an alternative supply but it was felt also that an Ontario plant could turn out models which would be flown to Red China.

The government is "quite determined" that shipments to Red China will proceed without delay or interruption. Mr. Diefenbaker said. Shipments had been on schedule so far.

He said he wanted to emphasize that there is "no basis whatsoever" for suggestions that the U.S. ban would endanger the execution of the grain deal terms.

Most of this is going from west-coast ports. The Chinese arrangements involve delivery of 217,000,000 bushels of wheat and 58,000,000 bushels of barley spread over 2½ years. The total price is $425,000,000.

Band's Scholarship Fund Seems Doomed To Failure

Plans of the Kelowna Band Association to send 25 young band students to the UBC or Pentleton Summer School of Music, appear doomed to failure today.

It had been hoped to raise $1500 by this Saturday, June 10, but up to now only $250 has been raised.

A. S. Matheson, chairman of the drive declared: "I don't think the drive has failed because people won't support it. I think it is just that it has slipped their minds. However, we must know by Saturday just how many students we'll be able to send."

ANY SIZE

Many people seemed to think only large donations would be acceptable. Such is not the case. Any size donation, from five cents, to $5 are acceptable. Over one third the student body in the Kelowna schools is connected with the Kelowna schools music system. If each parents was to donate $1 the collections would add up considerably.

The $1500 objective pays half the tuition for the 25 students, the parents and students paying the other 50 per cent. The sum includes transportation, board and room for the three week course, and tuition.

The UBC summer school of music is in its fourth year, the Pentleton Summer School in its second. The three-week programs offer young instrumentalists of high school age an opportunity to work with band and orchestra directors and with teaching specialists in numerous instrumental areas.

Donations can be sent to the Kelowna Senior High School, Melkies Department Store, or CKOV. Receipts will be provided.

Vernon's Airport Site 'May Have Other Uses'

VERNON (Staff) — Mayor Becker hinted at council Monday that the present municipal airport site may eventually be used for something else. He commented during discussion of a complaint by E. Doug MacColl, manager of Triway Air Services Ltd., that a garage being built on private land adjacent to the east end of the airport, could create a hazard to approaching air traffic.

"I might hope that in the not-too-distant future, this land will be used for something else than an airport," said the mayor.

This was an oblique reference to his long-standing campaign for a separate city airport in the Swan Lake area.

OTTAWA TALKS

He will discuss this with the Department of Transport when he visits Ottawa next week. Ald. Franklin Valair added: "I think it's common knowledge that the airport is of limited usefulness, in any case."

He said any move to expropriate private land concerned in the complaint "would have to be given a great deal of thought."

The matter was referred to city's airport committee.

LAND PURCHASE

Council agreed to purchase part of two lots at the junction of Twenty-Seventh Avenue and Thirty-Fifth Street for street widening purposes.

Polson Park Condition Under Fire By Coach

By DOUG PECK
Courier Staff Writer

VERNON — Vernon Junior Esos baseball coach Clark Marshall said Monday that Polson Park here is in the worst condition of any similar park in B.C. for baseball.

His comments followed discussion by council Monday night of a letter from Okanagan Mainline Baseball League president W. J. Raptis, complaining over the condition of the park infield.

Ald. Rice reported to council that he believed the letter was due to a misunderstanding and that the baseball officials had been satisfied.

But coach Marshall was just the opposite to satisfied Monday.

"I have a ball-player who is out of action for two weeks as a result of scraping his arm of the infield last Thursday," he said.

"Why, that infield is covered with gravel. It should be completely reconstructed."

COUNCIL ERROR

He said he was not blaming

He said an offensive odor which exists is caused by a special kind of weed. His department will start "Operation De-Weed" there soon.

FIRE REPORT
Four fires were reported for May, causing damage estimated at $4,038. Total damage for the year to date is $15,846.86, reported Fire Chief Fred Little.

ROYALITES MEET 'SPURS' TONIGHT
VERNON (Staff) — Vernon Royalites, winners of the first half in the Okanagan Mainline Soccer League, play Kelowna Hotspurs starting at 7 p.m. today in MacDonald Park here.

The locals have another game Sunday, against Cache Creek, which will wind up the first half.

Vernon, which also led the league last year, has played brilliant ball this season. The Royalites have played six league games, and two exhibitions against coast first division clubs North Shore United and Mount Pleasant Legion.

They had one tie in league play, and tied North Shore 0-0 and the Legion 1-1.

Only other games left in the first half will be another game Sunday between Kelowna and Penticon.

North Kamloops has dropped out of the league.

Parking Warning
VERNON (Staff) — Ald. Franklin Valair warned council Monday that additional parking for Vernon Senior High School staff and students in Polson Park is going to be needed soon.

"I don't think present parking will be sufficient in the years to come," he said.

The school is located near the northern boundary of the park.

Where To Put Travelcade Fazes Vernon Council

VERNON (Staff) — Council is in disagreement where to locate a 50-trailer travelcade which wants to visit the city Aug. 1-3.

The Avion Travelcade Club of Benton Harbor, Michigan, has written the city requesting use of Polson Park, and amenities such as water, light and rest rooms, of the Vernon Senior High School.

The latter request has been referred to Vernon School District 22.

The travelcade group last visited Vernon five years ago. A Wally Byam organized travelcade will visit the city for one day July 25.

Ald. Ellwood Rice is supporting the request for Polson Park for use on the grounds it is near city shopping and the group's entertainment program needs such facilities at the band shell in the park.

Mayor Frank Becker proposed the visitors could just as well locate near the newly-remodeled Lakeside Hotel and Resort Ltd.

The Chamber of Commerce, which has done considerable preliminary spadework to bring the travelcade to Vernon, is also supporting Polson Park as a location.

Ald. Parnes Holt, in the midst of pro and con discussion, mentioned simply: "If merchants were consequently we don't hurry up and decide one of several thousand some other city is going to offer adequate facilities and we'll lose the tour".

The matter has been tabled for a week to obtain further information.

SEAPLANE FLIPPED ON BACK BY WIND NEAR OK. LANDING

VERNON (Staff) — A light seaplane at Okanagan Lake near Okanagan Landing was damaged by wind.

The trainer, owned by Triway Air Services Ltd., broke its moorings in a sudden heavy wind and flipped over on its back.

Moderate damage was done, according to air services manager E. MacColl.

The lake is being used as a temporary mooring area until the chater service's new dock is completed on nearby Swan Lake.

LUMBY VISIT

Traffic Dragnet By RCMP

VERNON (Staff) — The RCMP, headed by Const. Alex Marchuk of the Vernon Detachment, move into Lumby today in phase two of a four-phase check of vehicle traffic in the North Okanagan.

Last week RCMP checked nearly every car in Vernon Wednesday and Thursday.

Const. Marchuk reported as a result 28 charges were laid, including eight concerning illegal use of purple gas.

He said 147 drivers were warned their vehicles were defective and told to get repairs.

Following the two-day check in Lumby, the RCMP check moves to Kelowna next Wednesday and Thursday, before returning to Vernon June 21 and 22 in the final road check before summer.

The check covers the area from Kelowna to Revelstoke. Ten people, caught in the traffic check, appeared in Vernon Police Court Tuesday.

Four of the cases concerned illegal use of dyed gas.

Fined $50 and costs on this charge were Julius Hohenstein, Norman Poggenmoller, and a Minard Monson.

The court reduced the penalty to Clifford Ernest Teather to 10 days suspended sentence when it learned he had brought an injured man to a Vernon doctor in an emergency, using a truck operating on the purple gas.

Three speeders were fined $25 and costs; Mrs. Edie Ross, Edwin A. Koshi, and Alfred Broenner.

Others fined were Mike Chomatsky, $25 and costs for making an illegal left turn; Robert Johnson, $15 and costs for operating a truck without a chauffeur's license, and Robert Cucheron, $25 and costs, for driving without insurance.

MAY GET SUBSTITUTE
A spokesman for the company — Dunbar - Kapile Corporation — said there may be some difficulty in getting similar devices from other countries although it was possible that a substitute could be found.

Some of the $12,000 unloading units from the U.S. manufacturer were already on the dock in Montreal when the U.S. government moved to prevent their delivery. They were brought back to the U.S.

Mrs. Margaret Schwartz, acting director of the U.S. foreign assets control office, said in Washington Tuesday that the manufacturer had been told to stop the sale because the equipment was to be used on ships directly or indirectly under Communist Chinese charter.

MONTREAL (CP) — The Gazette says Canadian customs officials last week seized 185 tons of spare parts and base materials transhipped here from New York and bound for Cuba.

Canadian customs officials, says The Gazette, removed the spare parts and base materials from the Cuban-flag freighter Bahia de Siguaná before she sailed from Montreal Friday for Havana.

The newspaper says the seizure was made under an "unofficial" agreement between Canada and the U.S.

"Canada has restricted her trade with Cuba only to the extent of not shipping weapons but has made assurances it will not tolerate the bootlegging of American strategic goods to Cuba through her ports."

Some of the seized merchandise was made in Canada. It had been shipped by a New York agent to Montreal for shipment to Havana. The cargo included some Canadian-produced copper in this category.

ADMIT DEFEAT
Finally each side admitted defeat in trying to persuade the other, and agreed that the courts will have to settle the question. The bill was given clause-by-clause approval and scheduled for third and final reading today.

The contentious section of the "goodball" bill says plainly that the Crown must first prove that the accused possessed the drugs — although possession in itself is not the crime. The offence is possession for the purpose of trafficking.

Then the accused "shall be given an opportunity" of establishing that he possessed the drugs lawfully, or that he did not possess them for the purposes of trafficking.

Such a provision means that the accused has to prove his innocence. Spoke after speaker made this point — Paul Martin (Enoch East), J. P. Deschatelets (Montreal Maisonneuve - Rosemont), Leon Crestohl (Montreal Cartier) and others.

Rare CARS Mobile Unit Pays Visit To Kelowna

Until recently the only occupational therapy van on the continent, the CARS mobile unit has just visited Kelowna. Miss Kay Lichtensteiger, the occupational therapist, spent several days here with local physiotherapist, Miss Joan Critchley, in consultation with arthritis patients in the district. It resulted in fitting of special shoes, construction of resting casts and working splints, and assistance in many other ways.

At the regular meeting of CARS Miss Critchley reported a heavy patient load of 71, 59 arthritic and 12 non-arthritic. There were 144 clinic treatments, 86 at home and 40 inpatients, for a total of 270. Fees collected amounted to $146 and car mileage was $92. The walker purchased by the WA has proved most useful. Another stool has been donated to the clinic by a patient. The new Bluebird car is now in use. Mrs. D. Hindle has been assisting in the clinic. Official word is still being awaited from UBC.

Water Safety Show Planned

Kelowna and District Safety Council will meet today to finalize plans for a water safety show which will be offered to the public free of charge on June 18 at the Kelowna Aquatic at 2:30 p.m.

The Pacific and Life Saving Club will bring a demonstration team of over 20 members from Vancouver to participate in this event and it is expected Gail Stewart and Gordon Brown of Kelowna will also take part.

These performers are all donating their time and efforts towards giving the people of Kelowna an exciting program of 15 acts, including tower and comic diving, synchronized swimming, comic water ballet, drill team land and water life-saving, and artificial respiration.

Presentation of the water safety show is an effort on the part of the Kelowna and District Safety Council to emphasize the need for water and recreation safety-awareness at all times.

INTERIOR ITEMS

Things have been busting out all over in North Kamloops for many a year. From the late forties to the present day the community's population has shot up from a meagre 800 to a soaring 6,500 or so.

With the result, North Kam is to bust out from village status to enter the dignified hierarchy of a town.

Village Commission chairman Don Ellsby, the hard-working storekeeper-cum-politician, will be the town's first mayor.

Date of the trip to townhood will be July 1. Present commission will remain in office until Dec. 7 civic elections.

Some rumors emanating from a Coast source say that Entry Estates about halfway to Vernon from Kelowna on the West side of the lake, are focal point of a financial fiasco. Those who speak of such things imply that lovely purple money is ready for the pouring into the development. All that is needed is an agreement.

Mass assault on Pentelton by some 600 Jaycees ended Sunday, when after a final breakfast and last provincial meeting before the 1 a.m. adjournment.

Also in the Peach City during last week were members of the B.C. Beef Cattle Association, holding their convention which was addressed by such people as the Federal Minister of Justice E. Davie Fulton.

And so this week the conventioning city folk have sunk back into that somnolent state more fitting for an Okanagan centre than the hurly burly existence the previous week.

that the long-awaited school of rehabilitation will be started this fall.

FURTHER DRIVES

Reporting for the WA, Mrs. T. F. McWilliams said that arts and crafts classes will recess for the summer months, but asked that drives continue to be arranged. The WA has donated $25 to the board to be used for expenditures not covered by general funds. The annual garden tea for patients will be held June 17 at the home of Mrs. O. Jennens.

Miss Mary Pack, executive director of CARS, who visited Kelowna in May, had a very full program. She attended a dinner meeting with the board, and spoke to a number of clubs and organizations. A tea was arranged by the WA was also well attended by representatives of a number of women's groups.

Former City Barber Dies At 72 Years

Fred Anderson of 858 DeHart Avenue died at his home on Sunday after a lengthy illness. He was 72 years of age.

Born in Sweden, he came to Canada with his parents when he was 11 months old. He took his schooling at Winnipeg and in 1916 joined the Canadian Army. Spending two years overseas he returned at the war's end. He lived in Manitoba before coming to B.C. 21 years ago, spending the last 12 years in Kelowna. He was the proprietor of Fred's Barber Shop on South Pandosy for a number of years until ill health forced him to retire three years ago.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning at The Garden Chapel with Rev. R. S. Leitch officiating. Cremation is to follow at Vancouver.

Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife, Olive, one sister, Vera (Mrs. C. R. Parkinson) of Vancouver and one niece, Clarke and Bennett were entrusted with the arrangements.

City Kinsmen Were Selling In The Rain

Kelowna Kinsmen were rained out in their broom selling campaign Tuesday. According to a club spokesman the rain-soaked campaigners returned claiming that the public response was terrific and the brooms were selling well.

It was decided that the club should renew their efforts and try and finish the selling Wednesday evening.

It was felt that many people were waiting for the Kinsmen and for this reason it was thought that an all out effort should be made to completely cover the city and surrounding points.

The Kinsmen wish to remind buyers that this is a good five-string broom and that all proceeds from this campaign is going towards the purchase of an anaesthetizing machine at the Kelowna General Hospital. All Kinsmen are praying for no rain tonight.

More Power Used

Kelowna's electricity usage for May is up 7.25 percent over last year's in the same month. Kelownians used 2,416,800 kilowatt hours in May.

A VALEDICTORIAN

Wayne Stuhlmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stuhlmiller of Kelowna, is a June graduate of the junior college department of Concordia College in Edmonton, Alta. Wayne was the class valedictorian, speaking at the graduation exercises at the school on June 11. Wayne was extremely active during his years at Concordia. This year he was student body president, recruitment chairman for the Male Chorus, which sang in Kelowna this Easter recess, was in the drama club, on the student council, and played on the college basketball team.

Wayne is a member of First Lutheran Church in Kelowna at Richter and Doyle Streets.

Royal Anne Hotel Interest Sold For Near Half Million

Major stake in Kelowna's Royal Anne Hotel was sold Monday for a sum understood to be in excess of $500,000. The exact figure was not disclosed. Purchaser of the share from Kelowna businessman Nevil Armstrong was Kamloops' Frank Turley. Holder of a smaller share in the property, Ken MacKinnon, remains as partner to Mr. Turley.

No major changes are anticipated.

Most international reputation which was erected on Bernard in 1906. In 1929 the older building was moved back to the lane and the new building went up on its site.

NORTHERN EXPERIENCE

Mr. Turley has had considerable experience in the hotel business. He has operated hotels in the north, including the Vanderhoof Hotel and the famous Twilight Lodge.

He will bring from Kamloops his wife and family of five children—two of them twins.

After the transaction, Mr. Turley said: "I am proud to become associated with this fine hotel. I intend that we shall maintain that high level of service and efficiency for which it has rightly become known."

It is appropriate to see that coinciding with the change of ownership that it was announced from Chicago, yesterday (see Daily Courier Page 3 Monday) the announcement that the hotel had received the Duncan Hines Fifth-of-a-Century award.

Mr. Armstrong, who has been connected with the hotel for the past eight years, said a number of bedrooms and bathrooms had been added since his tenure, and new licensed premises, including the beer parlors in the annex on Queenway had been built.

The Royal Anne was built on the site of the old Palace Hotel.

PREPAYMENT OF TAXES UP OVER SAME PERIOD IN '60

Tax prepayments in 1961 now total $196,063.03, almost $80,000 more than collected to the same period last year.

Trade licences totalling 900 have brought in fees amounting to $2,457. Professional taxes now number 62, worth $1,240.

Dog tags have brought in over $2,000.

All these figures represent increases over equivalent figures last year.

Three KHS Students To Be Auditioned For Stratford

Three students from Kelowna High School Orchestra are to be auditioned by a director of the National Youth Orchestra of Canada, some time toward the end of this month.

The audition will be held in the Okanagan but its exact location has not yet been disclosed.

It is felt that whether the three students are accepted or not is not the important point. The fact that such an audition has been arranged at all indicates the high standard of string teaching in the district.

If the young students are successful they will be invited to the Summer Session at Stratford, Ontario August 7-20 under the directorship of Walter Susskind, conductor of Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

$1,000 Raised For G. Elliot School Track

Total of $1,000 toward the $1,500 needed for the 425-yard track at George Elliot High School, has been raised by the PTA "Back-the-Track" committee and supporters of the school.

Official opening date of the track is set for June 15.

The representatives of the three areas serving the school are K. Nuysen of Oceola Fish and Game Club; Mrs. F. Batcliffe of the Winfield Women's Institute; Mrs. B. Cooney of the Okanagan Centre Women's Institute; Mrs. N. Allingham of the Oyma Women's Institute; D. Elliot of the Oyma Fire Brigade; S. Land, PTA president; C. Honld, Winfield Fire Brigade; P. Greer, Oyma Legion; H. Redecopp of the Foresters; R. McDonald, Winfield Farmers' Institute met with the Back-the-Track committee on May 1.

Other members of the committee are: A. Townsend, R. Dungeat, A. Green, G. Tucker, L. Dedinsky, G. Arnold was appointed as superintendent of construction. The brick for the track was donated by Serwa Bulldozing Ltd., and is being crushed by Bedford Company Ltd.

At the official opening of the track the school house system will draw to a close with finals in relay races being run. Following this the Winfield Hall Board and the Back-the-Track Committee are sponsoring a bingo at the Community Hall in Winfield.

Farm Changes Hands

Miss Edith Gay has sold her farm to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Teller of Winnipeg. They will not take possession, however, until next year. In the meantime the property is being farmed by Len Tonn of Glenmore.

Miss Gay has taken up residence in her new home, which she built on two acres which she retained.

Boys' Picnic

Rutland A.O.T.S. Club held their annual boys' picnic, at Wood Lake, on Saturday with a good number of boys and members turning out for a day of fishing and boating. The weather was sunny and warm, and some of the boys enjoyed their first swim of the season.

Store Sold

The Rutland Grocery, near the school, has been sold by the proprietor M. Schneider, to W. B. Vincent, of Red Deer, Alberta, who will take over the store July 1.

Small Cities May Now Get Better Air Services

A recent decision by the air transport board a few weeks ago may have important repercussions on the interior of this province. The whole air policy of this country would seem to have been altered by the decision to permit Nordair Ltd., to operate a service linking Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Oshawa, London, Sarnia and Windsor.

It has been long known that TCA and suspected that CPA are primarily interested in "main-line" and overseas traffic, and not too interested in the development of feeder lines into the smaller communities, preferring to leave this to smaller independent operations.

One of the great weaknesses of Canadian aviation has been its slowness in bringing the benefits of air transport to smaller centres. In the United States, every community of any size has a thriving airport with daily flights by one or more scheduled airlines. These are often local concerns serving a specific region. In Canada, however, the emphasis has been on trunk routes connecting the larger cities. Smaller places such as Kingston and Peterborough in Ontario are left without air services. And witness, too, the trouble Kelowna has securing air service. The smaller places were generally faced with the problem that on one hand the larger companies were not interested in serving them and small companies were forbidden to do so.

True, in recent years the policy has been somewhat relaxed, but regional air services were still handicapped by restrictions designed to prevent them competing with TCA. When Nordair started its southwest Ontario service this year, it was forbidden to carry passengers or freight between cities connected by TCA. It could take a traveller from Toronto to Sarnia, or London to Sarnia, but not from London to Toronto.

These silly restrictions would now appear to have been scrapped. Nordair has been authorized to set up an efficient network in Ontario and it will be at some points in direct competition with TCA. The department of transport has indicated that similar networks will be authorized in other parts of Canada.

It has also been announced that in future TCA will be required to obtain air transport board approval for changes in its operations. Its competitors have always been required to do this. TCA's exemption from the rule symbolized its privileged status—the "official" line whose interests and convenience must take precedence over everything else—including the interests of the travelling public. The new regulations suggest that from now on TCA will be treated less like the spoiled darling of the state and more like a regular airline.

Time For Litter Talk

With the summer season well with us and warm weather replacing the unusually cool spring, it is time to think of the unsightly and even dangerous results of allowing litter in the countryside. European countryside are noted for their cleanliness and incidentally for their beauty, and this is largely because the public has been trained for years to keep them tidy.

Nothing can spoil more the appearance of parkland or an attractive countryside than an accumulation of litter. Picnic parties have been known to be very careless in this regard and individuals often throw away paper and containers in places where they become unsightly.

There is also the danger hazard. A piece of blowing paper sent a truck through a bridge railing to a 25-foot fall. A bottle thrown from a car window caused the car behind to skid violently off the road and overturn. Lighted cigarette and cigar butts burn forests and fields, destroying cars and homes, killing wildlife and threatening whole communities, to say nothing of the valuable timber destroyed. Nine out of ten outdoor fires are man-started. Refuse sometimes clogs roadside drains causing costly erosion and serious accidents. Throwing an empty bottle out of a car window is a reprehensible act but in the same category can be included throwing out plastic wrappers, orange peel and cigarette ends. Motorists should be sure not to drive away from a picnic spot leaving empty cans or sheets of newspaper that may soon be rolling down the highway. And speaking of cans, can one think of a sight more disgusting than that of a load of cans dumped carelessly along a roadside?

The solution of these motoring misdemeanors is to keep a little bag in your car and use it. Deposit it in the litter can the highway dearmen provide. Few things could be more helpful in keeping our highways pleasanter and safer.

Pearson's Style Improved Since 1958 Freshman Show

By BEN WARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Lester B. Pearson will hit the next general election with a campaign style tremendously improved from his freshman performance as national Liberal leader in 1958.

This is the unanimous opinion of parliamentary reporters who watched the 64-year-old opposition leader in action during a rugged seven-day tour of the four constituencies with by-elections May 29.

"Three years ago Mike Pearson was a diplomat who didn't know beans about politics," said one veteran newspaper correspondent. "Now, all of a sudden, he's a politician."

Mr. Pearson's campaign in 1958 was mostly stiff and formal, much of his main pitch based on international themes. Fresh from the other-world atmosphere of the diplomatic set, the former external affairs minister had difficulty adjusting to the handshaking and backslapping of a domestic grassroots tour.

Today his manner is sharply changed. His speechmaking is vigorous, pounding hard on regional issues. At political receptions he mixes with the crowd in a friendly, more relaxed manner, encouraging by-standers to chat about local affairs by going over to them with a big smile and outstretched hand.

The four-day tour touched Kelowna in Eastern Ontario, Kingston on Prince Edward Island, Restigouche-Madawaska in northern New Brunswick and Esquimalt-Saanich on Vancouver Island. The Liberals won only in Kelowna, the Progressive Conservatives retaining the other three seats.

Mr. Pearson, who went into the election campaign of March, 1958, after less than two months in the party leadership, set himself a rugged schedule for the byelection tour. It had all the earmarks of a practice run for the big one.

He went into Kelowna on Friday, June 2, the next afternoon and spent Sunday in travel and rest before campaigning Monday in Restigouche-Madawaska. He was back in Ottawa Tuesday afternoon to clean up a backlog of paper work and boarded a jet airliner early Wednesday bound for B.C.

Eight press gallery reporters accompanied him into Kelowna and the Maritimes along with two aides, a special assistant

Richard O'Hagan and economic adviser Maurice Lamontagne. Mr. Pearson made seven stops in his swing through the back-country farming area of Kelowna, chatting on village street corners and strolling into general stores. Rain all but washed out the outdoor rallies planned along the way but small crowds of 50 to 100 people turned out to greet him. His boyish grin and jaunty bow-tie were instantly recognized on the streets. But where three years ago Mr. Pearson seemed too embarrassed to make the initial approach, this time he was open and almost gregarious at times. He broke the ice quickly before shyness drove off his admirers.

TALKED TO FISHERMEN
In Souris, a small fishing village near the northeast tip of P.E.I., the former career diplomat waded into the midst of a group of ruddy-faced lobster fishermen and spoke sympathetically about their problems with late spring ice.

He moved on to a group of housewives and deftly worked up a chat about their difficulties with rising prices and an uncertain income.

The Liberal leader talked to school children at a dozen different places, always stressing the need for higher education. He signed autographs obligingly and answered their questions about the other parts of the world he has visited.

Back-To-Cities Trend Shows Up In Cross Canada Survey

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The trend to the suburbs, which probably began when man first was nagged into giving up his cave for an airy skin tent, has come full circle.

Lots of people still are moving toward the light and air at the end of the bus line, but the Cross-Canada Survey shows that a reverse trend is shaping up.

In some areas—such as the crowded "golden horseshoe" of southern Ontario—it's hard to tell who's moving where. There, it's possible to get so far into the Toronto suburbs that you end up in Hamilton, 45 miles west.

That the trend to the suburbs remains strong is evident in most parts of the country.

But the Canadian Press found, especially in the larger centres, that the moving van taking a young family to Outlying Acres frequently returns with an elderly, retired couple seeking the convenience of city dwelling.

The suburban trend is evident in the Atlantic provinces, where it is described as "definite" in Sydney and "reluctant" in Halifax. Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick are also experiencing it. Newfoundland is an exception.

TWO-WAY TRAFFIC
There is similar evidence in the Prairies. Lower suburban land costs exert a pull in Edmonton and Winnipeg. Regina, too, small to reflect definite trend, is described as "just one large suburb."

In Ontario, the outward movement is felt in Ottawa, Windsor and Hamilton. The two-way traffic is becoming more pronounced in Toronto, bearing out the experience of major United States cities.

No clear picture has emerged in London since the city annexed large areas Jan. 1. Before annexation, only 40 acres in the city were available for housing but recent figures indicate a building boom in the newly-annexed areas.

Against two permits for single-family dwellings issued in London in the first three months last year, 172 permits covering 22,073,000 were issued in the first three months of this year.

Stout resistance to the siren call of suburbia is being shown by the individualists who inhabit such areas as Montreal, Quebec City, Vancouver and Victoria.

In Quebec, people are inclined to move to the suburbs as a healthy place to raise children, returning to the centres of their culture and religion when the children are grown and away from home.

LESS FOR FOOD
Jean-Claude Lahay, Quebec City's town-planning consultant, says however that many who choose a suburb really can't afford it and have to cut down on food to meet higher living costs. As a result, their children are no better off.

G. F. Fountain, Vancouver's planning director, says there is not much property available near the downtown area and many persons find they have no choice but to live in the suburbs.

Philip Holmes, a Victoria real estate agent, says suburban living booms have levelled off there. Persons who moved to the suburbs left vacancies in the city and these vacancies began filling during the recession.

The big reasons behind the trend to and from the cities? Economic, say the experts.

In Charlottetown a building lot in a middle-class urban area sells for about $1,000. A similar lot in the suburbs would bring $1,000.

Housing Corporation in Fredericton and Saint John, cities where taxation and the fact that people hunting good homes can't find them in the city.

One of the largest real estate dealers in St. John's, Nfld., Stan Condon, says no great trend has developed either way because of the high cost of land and lack of serviced land both in the city and on its fringes.

ESCAPE HIGH TAXES

George Schurman, Halifax home-builder, says congestion on the peninsula on which the city is built has brought the "reluctant" trend to the suburbs, where homes are also cheaper. Contractor Douglas Chapell of Sydney says people move out to escape high taxes and the dirt of the steel plant.

Economics also rule in the West. CMHC officials say a two-bedroom house in the suburbs of Winnipeg may go for $13,500 to $14,000, compared with $14,000 to $15,000 for similar accommodation within the city.

The percentages tell the tale in Edmonton.

In the 1950-55 period, the urban population jumped 41 per cent while the total of the four main suburban areas increased by 42 per cent. In the following five years the urban increase was 22 per cent while the suburbs jumped ahead by 116 per cent.

ETHNIC MIGRATION

Ed. director of education for the Toronto Real Estate Board, offers another suggestion: Older families move to the suburbs when immigrants settle in their part of the city.

He said New Canadians, who tend to settle in national groups, choose a church and move into homes around it. Some of the original families apparently years.

OTTAWA REPORT

Election In Fall Rumor

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Last week's byelection victories for the Diefenbaker government have given fresh stimulus to speculation here that the Prime Minister may call a general election this fall.

The byelections were held in four ridings which the Conservatives had won in the general election of 1958. Against the general anticipation, the Conservatives retained three of those seats, losing only the traditionally Conservative riding of Leeds, Ontario.

Never before in Canadian political history, said Senator G. "Solly" Thorvaldson, president of the National Conservative Association, has a government in office won three byelections on the same day.

Jubilant among Conservatives here was heightened by the publication of a public opinion poll on the following day, which showed that the Canada-wide preference for the Liberal party had contracted from seven to two percentage points during the past two months, chiefly due to a remarkable swing of 13 percentage points in the province of Quebec.

It has, however, been suggested here that the poll is based on too small a sample to be relied upon; only 700 voters are sampled, it has been said, while no sample at all is taken in the Maritimes. This seems an improbable narrow polling, but if it is true, then we must agree with the thinking behind certain CCF proposals to outlaw all public polls of political opinion on the grounds that they have undue and undesirable effect upon the thinking of many Canadians who read them.

RESULTS ANALYSED

What in fact did last week's byelections reveal?

Three out of four seats won by Conservatives is a somewhat misleading summary. Of all the votes polled in the four ridings, the Conservatives received 43 per cent, while the Liberals received 41 per cent. This was in vivid contrast to the figures in the 1958 general election, when in those same ridings the Conservative candidates polled 60 per cent of the total votes, to 35 per cent for the Liberals.

In every seat the story was the same: a huge swing from the Conservative candidate to representatives of other parties.

In Kings, P.E.I., the late John A. Macdonald's majority of 1,134 was trimmed to a mere 167 votes, which nevertheless as expected gave his widow the victory. In Leeds, which the Tories had won 15 times in its previous 17 elections, a comfortable majority of 3,330 votes was turned into a loss.

In Restigouche-Madawaska, N.B., an even larger majority was trimmed to three figures. And in Esquimalt-Saanich the Conservatives' 65 per cent share of the poll, achieved in 1958 by Hon. George Pearkes, B.C., now lieutenant-governor of B.C., was slashed to 31 per cent, which nevertheless proved to be a winning margin since the anti-government vote was split between Liberal, New Party, Social Credit and Socialist candidates.

POINTERS FOR FUTURE

The Conservatives could scarcely have hoped to fight on a more favorable battleground than these four ridings, including two in the heavily pro-Tory Maritimes and two other traditionally Tory ridings. In these circumstances it was no triumph to score three victories.

But the total of votes does show that the Diefenbaker government is at last sundering out of its slump in public favor. In addition, we must remember that economic indicators foretell an appreciable uplift in the U.S. in the latter part of 1961.

This will be reflected after a short delay in our economy. Time therefore appears to be working for the Conservatives, with both the uplift of the U.S. and the benefits of the Diefenbaker legislation tending to rebuild our prosperity during the months ahead.

Apart from a chance political windfall in the shape of some attractive election issue, these factors indicate that the prime minister will not satisfy the speculators by calling an election this year.

Saint Paul's United Church Scene Of Pretty Ceremony

Baskets of red roses decorated St. Paul's United Church for the wedding of Wendy Lane Curtis and Edward Anthony Tarasewich at 4:30 p.m., on Saturday, May 27. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frank Curtis of Rutland, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tarasewich of Glenmore. Rev. D. M. Perley officiated at the ceremony, and wedding music was played by Mrs. R. P. Pettypiece.

The bride looked charming in her floor-length gown fashioned with three tiers of nylon lace and net over a full skirt. The bodice was also of nylon lace and net, and the bride veil was four tiers of nylon tulle, held in place by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley, and for something old, carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

Mrs. Edna Kaminski, aunt of the bride, attended her niece as matron of honor and the bridesmaid was Miss Elaine Hume, of Glenmore, a cousin of the bride. Both attendants wore identically fashioned dresses, the matron of honor's being pale green while the bridesmaid chose yellow. The dresses were of nylon chiffon, and were full skirted models with stand away necklines and matching streamers down the back, little jackets completed the ensemble. Their headresses were in matching tones as were their bouquets.

The best man was Mr. Bernard Tarasewich, and the ushers were Mr. Ken Curtis of Rutland and Mr. Leo Bulach of Kelowna.

To receive the guests, at the Greek Orthodox hall, where the reception was held, the bride's mother chose a two-piece dress of turquoise nylon chiffon with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a teal blue terylene gown, with pink accessories, and her corsage was of pink carnations. The bride's table, which was covered with an Irish linen tablecloth that had belonged to her great, great grandmother, was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake. For her honeymoon, which was spent in Washington and other southern points, the bride chose a beige suit with light green accessories and her going away corsage was an orchid in bronze tones. The happy couple will take up residence on Cadder Ave., in Kelowna. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alf Kaminski, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fitchett of Burnaby; Mrs. J. Le Beau, Burnaby; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dorush of Osoyoos; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fitchett, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. A. Andrusiak, Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. D. Mazy, Oyama.

Paris Vogue Is For Artificial Flower Bouquets

PARIS (Reuters)—The latest fashion in Paris is to "say it with artificial flowers."

Frenchwomen revived the art of the artificial bouquet last winter when fresh blooms were both expensive and scarce. These life-like, artificial flower arrangements need no water and can be used over and over again.

Theatres, haute couture salons and professional decorators long have realized the scope of artificial flowers. But the idea has caught on only recently in private homes.

Such experts as Judith Barber, who supplies fashion flowers for the haute couture; Dugrenot, the well-known Faubourg St. Honore antiquary; and Trousseller, who creates absolutely lifelike reproductions of every natural bloom, offer beautiful and varied selections of artificial flowers for private clients.

Trousseller is capable of reproducing an exact copy of any known flower. But his selection is usually within the range of fresh flowers sold in the florist shops. His special favorite is the rose.

USE BEST FABRICS
The finest pure fibre fabrics are used to make these flowers. Silks, velvet, and sheer organzas or voiles prove most suitable. Shading, streaks, veins, and etched effects in leaves are hand-painted. Prices are high, but many clients "collect" their flowers a few at a time, adding to their bouquets every week with money which they otherwise would spend on fresh flowers.

Monsieur Trousseller's roses cost an average about 15 francs (about $3) each. Single branches of lilac, gladioli or delphinium cost between 20 and 25 francs (about $4 and $5.00). Smaller flowers for dining or side table vases, including sweet peas, nasturtiums, corn flowers, daisies and ivy or leaf sprays, cost from three to six francs (60 cents to $1.20) each.

Madame Janine Dugrenot has launched a special line of miniature orchids made of plastic. No one can resist touching the waxy smoothness of their translucent petals to probe the secret of this lifelike media.

Madame Paule Dedebean, who runs a florist shop, specializes in mixing fresh and artificial flowers in the same bouquet. She believes in taking advantage of the fresh-cut flowers in season, and using two or three artificial varieties to provide a touch of the unusual.

AROUND TOWN

Friends of Miss Louise Orwell of Kelowna who is now a featured skater with Ice Capades International will be interested to hear news of her visit to Russia.

The cast of the Ice Capades, which also includes Mr. John Franks who was formerly of Kelowna and who won the Western Canadian Pair Skating Championship with Miss Orwell in 1959, flew to Copenhagen on May 3rd on a Scandinavian airline and transferred there to a Russian line. Miss Orwell writes that the Russian Jet could not compare in luxury with the Scandinavian jet, but was faster and more utilitarian.

The Ice Capades International are being very enthusiastically received in Moscow, in fact within three days of their opening night tickets were sold out for the entire two months tour; and on the opening night itself so many encores were demanded by the audience that it took the troupe three hours to finish a normally two hour show.

On May 23 Mr. Khrushchev himself attended the show and presented the principal performers with bouquets and his calling card.

One of Miss Orwell's first impressions of Russia was the strangeness of seeing women working in the fields and digging ditches while she was driving from the airport to the Ukraine Hotel, but she has found the average Russian very pleasant and helpful, and that most of them are very curious about Canada. Many Russians want to buy clothes and cosmetics from the members of the troupe and are willing to give Russian language lessons in exchange. Others are very anxious to trade for ball point pens, paper matches, and chewing gum of all things. The food in Moscow is adequate Miss Orwell says, though many items such as oranges are very expensive, but the breads and pastries are plentiful and most delicious.

The Ice Capades members have done considerable sight seeing to date. They attended the famous year round Moscow circus, which to their amazement was featuring trained rhinoceros and have attended several performances of the wonderful Borshoi Ballet, and been taken on some conducted tours, one of which was to the University of Moscow, which is enormous in extent and has many beautiful buildings, and there they met many exchange students from different parts of the world.

Miss Orwell stars in the opening number of the Ice Capades, the 'Blue Danube', and while the troupe is appearing in Russia the cast are rehearsing their next extravaganza in which Louise will be featured with two solos and one pair number.

The original plan for the Russian tour was for the Ice Capades to appear first in Moscow and later travel to Kiev, but the show has proved so popular that the plans may be changed to remain in Moscow until they fly back to the United States on July 8. Louise will then have a months leave which she is planning to spend visiting her mother Mrs. J. Orwell in Kelowna.

OKANAGAN MISSION

Mrs. N. Purslow of Vancouver is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Swaisland, Hobson Road. She came up to see her granddaughter Anne Purslow, receive honors for scholastic proficiency in the recent graduation exercises at Kelowna Senior High School. Anne has been an outstanding Grade 12 student.

Brownies of the 2nd Okanagan Mission Pack who passed their Golden Hand tests on Saturday were Judy Farris, Susan Barclay, Fiona McLaughlin, Nan Baxter, and Barbara Donaldson. They will receive their badges when the Pack commences activities in the Autumn.

Mr. N. Van der Vliet, Hobson Road, flew back from England on Thursday. Travelling to Switzerland and then to Denmark, he enjoyed a reunion with his brother and sister, who were in Europe on leave from their home in Kenya.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Mitchell, Jennifer, Angela and Andrew, left for Great Britain on Monday. They will be living in St. Andrews, Scotland.

Congratulations to all the local residents who did so well in the Kelowna and District Spring Horse Show and Gymkana, held at the Riding Club Grounds on Sunday. The show was blessed by good weather after a rainy start.

FRUIT AND MILK TEAM UP IN JUNE

June is Dairy Month in Canada, an opportunity for us all to take special advantage of the wonderful qualities of dairy foods, and of the host of dishes which could never be made without them.

An elegant example of this is Spanish Cream with Green Grapes. Milk, one of its essential ingredients, is also found in the accompanying Almond Custard Sauce—a superb finishing touch to a refreshing dessert.

SPANISH CREAM WITH GREEN GRAPES

(Makes 6 to 8 Servings)
½ pound seedless green grapes, washed and halved; 1 envelope unflavored gelatin; 2 cups milk; 6 tablespoons sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 eggs, separated; 1 teaspoon vanilla.
Measure out 1 cup grape halves. Keep remaining grapes for garnish. Sprinkle gelatin over milk in saucepan. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes to soften. Add sugar and salt; cook over low heat until dissolved. Beat egg yolks slightly and stir in a little of the hot milk mixture. Pour back into hot mixture in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and coats spoon. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Chill until mixture begins to set. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat gelatin mixture until foamy and fold into egg whites. Fold in grapes. Pour into a 1-quart mold or dessert dishes. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with grapes. Serve with the following Almond Custard Sauce.

Almond Custard Sauce: 3 egg yolks; ¼ cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 cups milk; ½ teaspoon almond flavoring.
Beat egg yolks slightly in saucepan. Blend in sugar and salt. Scald milk; stir slowly into egg yolk mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly. Cool and add almond flavoring. Makes about 2 cups sauce.

This Program Should Attract Nursing Students

MONTREAL (CP) — A do-it-yourself program to attract nursing students has been started by Montreal's Jewish General Hospital, which sent information kits to 700 high schools across Canada.

"We hope, of course, to interest future high school graduates in our hospital," a spokesman said.

"But if we merely manage to interest them in the field of nursing in general, we will be more than satisfied."

PCL Official Wants Split In Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pacific Coast Baseball League pennant race has become a three-way affair, and because of that one league officer is demanding a split season to help clubs now deep in the second division.

Seattle has led the league since early in May and the main threats to the Rainiers are the Tacoma Giants and Portland Beavers, now 4½ and 5 games back, respectively.

Nick Morgan Jr., president of the Hawaii Islanders, said the Rainiers, who won again Tuesday night, threaten to make a runaway of the race and demanded action on his proposal the league split the season into two halves.

At Seattle, Dewey Soriano, president of the Triple-A league, said he had not received any communication from Morgan but that any action on such a proposal would be up to league directors.

In league action Tuesday night, young Seattle pitcher, Galen Cisco, handed Portland a two-hit 2-0 shutout for his sixth straight PCL victory. It was Cisco's third shutout of the season and dropped the Portlanders half a game back of Tacoma's Giants who shaded the Salt Lake City Bees 4-3 in 11 innings on Frank Rivera's home run. Hawaii beat San Diego 3-2 in the only other game. Spokane was rained out at Vancouver.

Greenberg Is Strong Man In Sox Sale

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Greenberg, second only to Babe Ruth as all-time season home run hitter, emerged Tuesday as strong man in the Chicago White Sox front office as a budding sale of the club was spiced.

While Sox vice-president Greenberg stated in a press conference that the majority 54 per cent of the American League team's holdings would not be sold to a syndicate headed by comedian Danny Thomas for a reported $4,800,000.

The 46-per-cent minority interest is held by sidelined Chuck Comiskey.

Greenberg said ailing Sox President Bill Veeck and prominent stockholder Arthur G. Allyn "have designated me to represent them as the sole spokesman for the majority interests in all phases of club business, both on and off the field."

Greenberg, whose 1938 homer total of 58 is exceeded only by Ruth's record 60 in 1927, apparently was irked by an early morning press conference called by Bernard Epton, a lawyer representing the Thomas syndicate.

CLAIMED OPTION
Epton claimed his group actually had an option to buy as of last Wednesday. But it was not signed and Epton said Greenberg upset the deal by demanding $100,000 instead of the proffered $1,000 for the option privilege.

Greenberg, some five hours after Epton had conducted his conference, issued a terse "clarifying" statement in which he not only announced his No. 1 role in the White Sox organization, but said:

"I will not approve a sale of the majority White Sox interest to the group headed by Mr. Bernard Epton."

"As to the possibility of a sale of our interests in the White Sox, we plan to continue to operate the club."

Pitching: Turk Lown, Chicago White Sox, worked out of bases-loaded jam when he came on in the fourth inning and knocked Detroit Tigers out of first place in the American League with their second in a row to Philadelphia Tuesday night as the last-place Phillies grabbed a 13-9 decision.

Hitting: Willie Davis and John Roseboro, Los Angeles Dodgers, delivered a triple and a double as consecutive pinch hitters, driving in the tying and winning runs with two men out in the seventh inning for an 8-7 decision over Pittsburgh Pirates.

St. Mike's To Withdraw From Junior A League

TORONTO (CP) — The withdrawal of Toronto St. Michael's College Majors from the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A Series was to be presented to the regular monthly meeting of the association's junior council today.

The team, sponsored by Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League and four years a supplier of players to the NHL, made hockey history this year by winning its fourth Canadian junior championship for the Memorial Cup.

St. Michael's principal, Rev. Matthew Sheedy, said Tuesday night the Junior A program, with its long schedule and play-off arrangements, in 111 a day against effective school work.

Cleveland On Top Of AL After Crushing Senators

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Staff Writer

Jimmy Piersall is leading the American League in batting at .370. Johnny Romano is on a 21-game hitting streak and the bullpen is strong. Put them all together and Cleveland Indians are in first place with an eight-game winning string.

The Indians, winning 20 of their last 24 games in a climb from fifth place, broke on top by .006 percentage points with their biggest run spurge of the season, walloping Washington Senators 14-3 Tuesday night while Chicago White Sox drove Detroit to second place by defeating the Tigers 7-1.

Piersall had two hits, one a triple, and drove in three runs. Romano, third in the batting race at .359, was 4-for-5, drove in four runs and belted a pair of homers as the Indians matched the longest winning streak in the major leagues this season—eight.

Third-place New York Yankees closed to within three games of the lead by handing Minnesota Twins a 12th straight loss, 7-2. Baltimore Orioles split a doubleheader with Los Angeles, losing 7-3 before Chuck Estrada pitched a two-hitter for a 2-0 decision over the Angels in the nightcap. Boston Red Sox defeated Kansas City Athletics 5-3.

EXPLODE IN SIXTH
The Indians turned a close game into a runaway with a seven-run sixth inning that beat rookie Joe McClain (5-4). They sent 11 men to bat in the sixth, getting runs on Piersall's triple, a double by Willie Kirkland, three singles, two walks and an error.

Vic Power's solo homer had given Cleveland a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning. Gary Bell (4-4) was the winner with a three-inning mopup by Bob Allen. Tribe relievers have been in on all but one decision in the eight-game streak and have locked up 15 of Cleveland's last 20 victories.

The White Sox, winning two successive games for the first time in almost three weeks, tripped the Tigers behind 2-3 innings of three-hit shutout relief by Turk Lown. The right-handed veteran replaced starter Early Wynn with a run in, three men on base and one out in the fourth inning. He got out of the jam by retiring loser Jim Bunning (4-5) on a foul pop and striking out Jake Wood.

Al Smith had four hits, one a homer, and drove in three runs for the Sox, giving them the lead with a two-run single in the fourth.

Southpaw Whitey Ford (8-2) and Luis Arroyo combined for a three-hitter against the Twins, who were shut out on one hit for 6-1 in three innings.

MARIS PLATES FOUR
Roger Maris drove in four runs for the Yanks and regained the league home run lead with his 16th, a three-run shot. Jack Kralick (4-4) lost as the Twins suffered their 17th defeat in 18 games. They played under coach Sam Mele after club owner Cal Griffith called manager Cookie Lavagetto home for week's vacation.

Estrada (3-4), an 18-game winner a year ago, pitched his first complete game of the season while blanking the Angels on two singles. He struck out 12 men but walked six. The Orioles broke up a shutout duel with Ken McBride (5-3) with a run in the fifth inning on Whitey Herzog's single.

Los Angeles wrapped up the opener in two innings on two homers—Ken Hunt's three-run shot and a grand-slammer by Lee Thomas—off Milt Pappas (1-3). El Grba (5-4) won.

Thomas was hit in the head by an Estrada pitch in the first inning of the nightcap. He escaped severe injury, but McBride then received an automatic $50 fine when he threw at Estrada, firing a pitch behind the Baltimore right-hander.

A two-run homer by El Grba capped a seventh-inning rally for the Red Sox when they scored four runs and beat reliever Jim Archer (2-1). Bill Monbouquette (5-5) won, giving up a two-run homer by Norm Siebern when the Athletics scored three unearned runs in the fifth.

LEADING CYCLIST

Antonio Pavan, Toronto Italia Cycling Club star, 27, winner of the Quebec City-Murray Bay 185-mile race, will lead a contingent of eight Canadian cyclists to France for the big European event.

US Will Enter Harmsworth Race

DETROIT (AP) — Canadian sponsors of the Harmsworth Trophy Race, an international powerboat racing event, were assured Tuesday there will be a U.S. challenger this year.

"We assured them that as far as humanly is possible we would have a boat entered this year," said Leonard H. Thomson, secretary of the Yachtmen's Association of America.

"We have no intention of withdrawing."

Some unlimited hydroplane owners in the U.S. had been openly critical in recent weeks of the setup at Pictou, Ont., where the Harmsworth is scheduled for Aug. 5-8. They also expressed a desire to compete the same weekend in the Seattle Mayfair Regatta, where $40,000 has been put up to race.

Thomson said Chuck Thompson's Miss Detroit probably would be the U.S. challenger against Canada's Miss Supertest III, winner the last two years.

CRITICIZES DELAY
KAMLOOPS (CP) — Lawyer Norman Fetterly Tuesday told County Court Judge Gordon Lindsay delay in producing adoption reports in the department of welfare is causing needless hardship to persons seeking adoption orders. He said the delay, caused by understaffing of the departments, means parents will be unable to complete formalities for at least three months.

ENTRIES STILL COMING IN

City Track, Field Meet To Be Sanctioned Event

To date entries have been received from Vancouver Olympic Club, Lytton, 100 Mile House, Rossland, Vernon, Castlegar and Kelowna.

He said that with the sanction any records broken will receive full recognition by the Canadian body.

A spokesman for the Kelowna Boys Club, sponsors of the meet, said today that a certificate of sanction has been received from the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada.

Popular sprinter Harry Jerome, who was sent an invitation to defend his meet titles, is expected to attend.

Distances are to be measured in metres as well as yards. A spokesman said that organization and administration is well in hand "to make this year's event as successful as it has been in the past."

The Vancouver Olympic Club will send six entries for the newly sanctioned 880 women's open race.

Check This For Cancer

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: For four or five months my intestines have been stopping up for three days and flowing like water on the fourth.

Could this be cancer? Mrs. S. H. Dear Mrs. H.: Any sudden change in bowel habits might mean cancer. Your intestines have to be proven innocent. This policy worries a lot of healthy people, but it also saves many a possible cancer victim.

See your doctor at once. Only he can lighten your cancer worries!

"BRAIN WAVES" GONE? Dear Doctor: I remember having brain waves, but I don't seem to have them any more.

What's happened? I feel quite confused! Mrs. M. C. Dear Mrs. M.: You can stop worrying. No one feels brain waves. They're tiny electrical currents that can be measured only with a special super-sensitive machine.

Perhaps you mean brain storms. Most minds calm with age!

LONG-LASTING AILMENT Dear Doctor: Two months ago I came down with infectious mononucleosis (glandular fever). I feel cured, but my lymph nodes (glands) are still swollen.

Mrs. K. R. Dear Mrs. R.: Swollen glands may bulge for weeks or months when you've recovered. A swollen spleen—enormous "lymph node" in the upper left corner of the abdomen—can cause trouble. Ask your doctor when he examines you. That completely-cured idea can go up in smoke if smoldering infectious mononucleosis suddenly flares up again!

SOFTENING TOE NAILS Dear Doctor: How can I soften my toe nails to make them easy to cut? Mrs. P. B. Dear Mrs. B.: Warm water works well. A 10 or 15-minute soak should do fine. A hot bath relaxes you, softens nails and steadies nerves before the trim. Clean under each nail with an orangewood stick. Then trim straight across, flush with the end of the toe, to avoid ingrown trouble.

CAUSE OF SHINGLES Dear Doctor: What causes shingles? Do they appear on only one part of the body? Can you get it more than once? Mr. H. S. Dear Mr. S.: The shingles virus infects nerves. Along each branch of the infected nerve, painful blisters break out and overlap each other like shingles. The virus can strike anywhere, but it rarely attacks two distant areas.

The immunity after one attack should wall you off from future shingles.

The Bidding:

Opening lead—king of diamonds

Certain advanced plays are a necessary part of a player's repertoire after he acquires sufficient experience at the bridge table.

For example, if we examine only the North-South cards, it appears that South can go down at six spades because there is a possibility of losing a spade and a heart.

This is the superficial view taken by many players of limited experience. They know that a spade must surely be lost, and the question of whether or not they lose a heart depends on guessing or then leads a spade.

which opponent holds the queen of hearts.

They also know that the queen can be captured by means of a finesse, but they don't know whether to finesse for the queen against East or West.

The bidding doesn't help much in trying to locate the queen, and the result of the hand therefore depends on how good they are at guessing which way to finesse.

However, the experienced player is not faced by any such problem. He would make the contract 100 per cent of the time because he would not try to guess the location of the queen of hearts. He would call the elimination guarantee fulfillment of the contract.

Declarer wins the diamond lead with the ace and promptly trumps a diamond. He then leads a club to the ace and trumps a club.

The effect of these plays is that all the diamonds and clubs are eliminated from both the North and South hands. Declarer doesn't care which opponent wins the trick. He is sure to get a favorable return and make the slam. Thus, in the actual hand, East wins the spade and cannot make any play to prevent South from winning the rest of the tricks.

If East plays a heart, West's queen is trapped, while if East plays a club or a diamond, South ruffs in his hand and discards a heart from dummy. Either way, the contract is certain to make.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Be practical in planning this day's schedule. Don't undertake more than you can reasonably handle but don't procrastinate with essentials. A tendency toward extravagance prevails.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, you have just entered a favorable cycle for furthering job and financial goals, and you would be well justified in making plans for expansion throughout 1961 and 1962. Keep your objectives in sight and make the best use of your skills. One word of admonition, however: In dealings with others, be tactful. Don't antagonize those who could be helpful.

Financial affairs should be on the upgrade as of this month but, in this connection, do avoid extravagance in September and next November. Creative matters will be under fire stimuli between now and October, and mid-year will be fine for travel and romance.

A child born on this day will be trustworthy, energetic and extremely determined in the pursuit of goals.

WHOOOSH!

A blazing blast hurls parachutist W. T. Hay 350 feet into the air during first manned test of new rocket-powered ejection seat at Chalgrove,

England. The test was made to show that fliers could bail out at extremely low altitudes from a nose-down attitude or in a downward flight path and reach over four times the height of non-rocket powered ejection seats.

Females' Mating Call Traps Errant Mosquitos In Ont.

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP)—Norman Whitaker hates mosquitoes—"they raise bumps, the size of half-dollars on me." But while most people with similar feelings keep as much distance as possible between themselves and the pests, Mr. Whitaker plans to do his best to attract them—with a recording of a female's mating call. "Thinking of some way to eradicate the pest, I thought of a man walking down the street with pockets full of money seeing a burlesque theatre sign flashing '26 girls, 26 girls, 26 girls'."

In his capacity as health inspector for this Ottawa Valley community, he decided it would be worth trying to lure the males to their death by sowing a poisonous fog 100 feet long and 75 feet across with the female's love-song recording playing at the end of it. While this won't kill the females, it means some will go unfertilized and thus will neither reproduce nor, what's better, bite. One difficulty is that there are 2,500 species of mosquito, each with its own mating call. Mr. Whitaker hasn't isolated Pembroke's species yet "but with the help of two physicists from Chalk River we hope to do so this summer."

In the meantime, he figures to work on the anopheles class, most common of mosquitoes. A male and female are placed in a cage backed by speakers and amplifiers. The sound of the female is picked up on $1,300 worth of stereophonic equipment, amplified and recorded.

INTEGRITY AND QUALITY

Principles Of Service Theme Of Success Story

A new dimension in the character of service is found by Belgo enthusiasts, which is just one more way of saying Belgo customers.

Alex Jurassovich, owner, reports that many families in and around Rutland have out-fitted their homes completely from his store. His 'lines' include everything within the scope of everyday living.

"I like to think we have a family store; something for every member of the family," says Mr. Jurassovich.

Entering his new store in downtown Rutland, he will be taking one more step in a series of progressive steps that have carried his business successfully since 1946.

TOP QUALITY

Top quality service brings customers back time and time again. This long-time Valley resident Alex Jurassovich says, is the secret of his store's success.

Added reason is the 'personal' touch given in sales. At one time service calls and repairs were made by the owner himself, but now business has expanded till he is unable to get around to the extent he did at one time.

On the phone continuously during the day, Mr. Jurassovich still is at home in his store for all customers as the telephone testifies.

"I sell exactly the same thing I use in my own home," he says.

His customers, he points out, get better service than his own wife. They receive immediate attention but his wife sometimes has to wait.

The move from outside Rutland into the town proper is a big one. But the older building will still be used. Appliance repairs will be made at the Belgo's original home.

It will be used for storage purposes, as well.

COME BACK

Intercom sets in the two stores will be used to facilitate movement of any desired appliance between.

Mr. Jurassovich says his customer files show about 6000 people who have dealt with his store, and although a few are not active buyers, they come back repeatedly because of his policies in sales.

Another aspect of the unique Belgo service is the fact that the store handles Canadian built goods wherever possible, and only the best. It also uses materials in servicing that are

HEADING SOUTH

MONT-JOLI, Que. (CP) — Three Mont-Joli men plan to leave Monday for Tierra del Fuego at the southern tip of South America in a covered wagon drawn by two horses. They expect the trip will take five years. Yvon Berube, leader of the group, said the trip is designed as a study and goodwill mission. The others are Donald Roy and Fernand Morissette.

SENTENCE PLOTTERS

SAIGON (Reuters)—A special military tribunal has passed death sentences on three South Vietnamese, two of them civil guards, for planning a Communist take over in Truc Giant, capital of Kien Hoa province, the Viet Nam press agency reported Wednesday. The prosecution said the provincial capital was to be taken over by three Communist armed companies on the night of April 1.

ELECTION CASES END

MONTREAL (CP)—Cases of voting irregularities in last October's municipal election were wound up Tuesday with the conviction of Paul Cloutier, 45, Cloutier, the last of 30 to be tried, was fined $500 for "illegally counselling, encouraging or aiding" the impersonation of a voter. Of the others charged, 20 received jail sentences of from three days to two months, and nine were fined sums ranging from $50 to $500.

DR. RIDDIE BURIED

ST. PETER'S, P.E.I. (CP)—Nearly 1,000 persons representing all walks of life attended the funeral Wednesday of Dr. R. J. Ceylon's Restless Tamils Wait Easing Of Tension

By SIDNEY WEILAND
COLOMBO (Reuters) — Ceylon's 2,000,000 restive Tamils are awaiting a government move—expected within the next few weeks — aimed at a compromise in the island's tense racial situation.

Leaders of the talented Tamil minority and resident Europeans say that failure to settle Ceylon's tangled two-language problem could lead to economic paralysis and a permanent split in the island's population.

The government's problem is this: To what extent should the Tamils be allowed to use their own language for official business in a country committed to the supremacy of the majority language, Sinhalese.

Twice during the last five years—in 1955 and 1958—Ceylon has seen bloody riots touched off by the same language jealousies. At least 250 persons were killed in the rioting.

Tension continues high after a six-week state of emergency in which one Tamil leader has been detained, newspapers censored and the army called out to patrol Tamil provinces.

ISSUE, SPECIAL POWERS
The army, backed by powers similar to martial law, has succeeded in preventing trouble. Only two deaths have been reported as a result of the language conflict during the emergency.

Government officials say the cabinet is "trying desperately" to evolve a formula that will satisfy the Tamils and yet not alienate the Sinhalese-Buddhist majority which gives the government its main support.

The search for an answer is complicated by centuries-old economic and emotional factors which, over the years, have turned Ceylon into a house divided against itself.

Spokesmen for all sides say the situation is dangerous and is likely to grow more serious unless the government takes action soon.

The state of emergency has achieved a false calm in the Tamil northern and eastern provinces but Tamil leaders threaten to resume their civil disobedience campaign once the emergency is lifted unless some of their main demands are met.

The long-range aim of the important Tamil group, the federal party, is regional autonomy for the Tamil provinces. The party's short-term object is recognition for Tamil as the language of administration in the north and east, a demand so far adamantly rejected by the government.

Thousands Of Students Demonstrate In Tokyo
TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of socialist-led students and workers kept up demonstrations in Tokyo today, demanding that an anti-violence bill shelved by the government be killed outright.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda was forced into retreat by strong opposition from upper house members of his own Liberal-Democratic party following riots in Tokyo and Kyoto Tuesday night in which 600 or more demonstrators and police were injured.

The prime minister, anxious to quiet dissension before his visit to President Kennedy later this month, abandoned plans to force the measure through the Diet (parliament) before its session ends Thursday. Ikeda planned to try again at the next Diet session.

The Socialists, Japan's No. 2 party, were not satisfied and demanded that the bill to stamp out political rioting be withdrawn.

FEW ANSWER CALL
Their campaign appeared to be losing steam, however. Although they called for 35,000 to march on the Diet today, only 9,500 union members and 3,500 extremist students turned out in separate groups.

The workers made an orderly march to the Diet and presented petitions demanding withdrawal of the controversial bill. The snake-dancing students threw rocks at some of the blue-helmeted police mustered for special duty and a group of 500 of them staged a sitdown strike in one of Tokyo's busiest streets, creating a giant-sized traffic jam at the rush hour.

The bill was pushed through the lower house Saturday by the ruling Conservative party and moderate Democratic-Socialists. It would have prohibited mass demonstrations around parliament and the prime minister's residence, the sites of the riots last year against the U.S.-Japan security treaty which forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Youth Held In Shooting
PENTICTON (CP) — RCMP said they are holding a juvenile for investigation following a shooting Wednesday on the Pentiction Indian Reserve. Police report the victim is in Pentiction hospital with a bullet in his abdomen, but that his condition is not considered critical.

CLOSE OFF BORDER
JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — South Africa is erecting a wire fence along its 1,000-mile border with the British protectorate of Bechuanaland, the Afrikaans language newspaper Die Vaderland reported here Wednesday.

The first aim of the fencing is to control foot-and-mouth disease, but the government also is considering military patrolling of the border and roads are being cleared alongside the fence for this purpose, it added.

SEEK HOLIDAY
OTTAWA (CP) — Fred Whitehouse, president of the 86,000-member Civil Service Association of Canada, urged the government Wednesday to give federal workers the Monday following Dominion Day off.

Mr. Whitehouse said a holiday Monday was the right of civil servants. Otherwise with Dominion Day falling on a Saturday, July 1, they would be deprived of a statutory holiday.

FEELS COMFORTABLE
He gazed at the Tahitian shore with its groves of curved-trunked cocoa palms and green hills and purple peaks beyond. "I'll hate to leave," he said. "This is the first time in 10 years that I've been able to feel comfortable among people."

In Tahiti, Brando can walk the streets unnoticed. It's not because the people don't know who he is; many do. But Tahitians never bother their fellow man, and Brando has achieved an anonymity he hasn't known since he became a star.

Some may think it unusual for a man to be a movie star and want to remain anonymous. But then, as the world well knows, Brando is not the usual kind of star. Director Reed has said "there is no more exciting, no greater actor in the world today."

MAY CHANGE NAME
LONDON (Reuters) — A court ruled Tuesday that a bride-to-be was not bound by a will stipulating she would inherit £200,000 ($560,000) only if she retained her maiden name after marriage. Anne Millicent Delme-Radcliffe, 19, will take her husband's name on her wedding Saturday to John Bruce Roper, 23, son of a member of Parliament.

MOVIE COLUMN

What A Bore Says Marlon

By BOB THOMAS
OFF TAHITI (AP) — Marlon Brando, aboard HMS Bounty, fastened a rubber band around his slightly greying locks to keep them from flying in the wind.

"What a bore," said the actor, his hair grown long for his role as Fletcher Christian in Mutiny on the Bounty.

Brando leaned against the rigging of the majestic three-masted, anchored off Papeete under a leaden sky. A hundred film makers were waiting—at $23,000 the day—for sunshine that never came.

Except for his flapping hair, Brando seemed little concerned about the delay, nor did he appear happy that the film company would be returning to Hollywood early because of the rainy season.

On the first day of shooting 10 weeks ago, he remarked to director Carol Reed: "I'm sorry to see this day come. It just means one day sooner that we will be going back to the states."

In Tahiti, Brando can walk the streets unnoticed. It's not because the people don't know who he is; many do. But Tahitians never bother their fellow man, and Brando has achieved an anonymity he hasn't known since he became a star.

Some may think it unusual for a man to be a movie star and want to remain anonymous. But then, as the world well knows, Brando is not the usual kind of star. Director Reed has said "there is no more exciting, no greater actor in the world today."

Jewish Writer Rises From Auschwitz Ashes

JERUSALEM (AP)—A noted Jewish writer who rose from the ashes of the Auschwitz concentration camp took the witness stand against Adolf Eichmann today, spoke in rambling terms for about 10 minutes, then spun off the chair in a faint.

The trial of the former Gestapo chief was suspended immediately.

The witness was introduced by the Israeli prosecution as Yechiel Dinnur. The packed audience gasped when he was identified for the first time in public—as the writer K. Zetnik.

a pen name meaning a prisoner of a concentration camp. His best known work is The House of Dolls, the story of the two years he spent in the Auschwitz death mill.

The witness acknowledged his double identity and in a curiously halting manner insisted that K. Zetnik "is not a nom de plume."

NOT A WRITER

"I do not consider myself a writer," he said. Instead, he maintained, he only chronicled the history "of another planet, Auschwitz."

RESORTED TO TRICK

Kleinman said he knew he had to resort to trickery so he "infiltrated" a group which already had passed the test.

Another witness, Yehuda Bakon, an Israeli artist who also was 14 when he came to Auschwitz in 1943 had a ticket for death in six months on arrival, he testified.

On Jan. 18, 1945, Bakon was one of only 89 boys who joined the death march to Mauthausen as the Germans evacuated Auschwitz to escape the onrushing Soviet armies.

Mauthausen was a swarming with lice, filth and disease-ridden. Taken to another camp nearby, Bakon saw an Allied air raid which hit the SS camp and also the area where the Jews were confined. When the bombing stopped, he said he saw Jews "eating the flesh" of those who were killed in the raid.

Weather Topic Crops Up For Learned Societies

By ALEXANDER FARRELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Conversation turned to the weather, among other things, at the Conference of Learned Societies Tuesday.

The Royal Meteorological Society, beginning its sessions at the University of Montreal, heard two Montreal weathermen say that automation will soon be introduced into the job of weather forecasting in Canada.

Michael Kwizick and James Leaver said in a joint paper to the society that weather forecasts "usually prove correct" but automation, in the form of a high-speed, $1,000,000 computer, should reduce the risk of inaccuracy even further and make it possible to provide more detail.

The computer, similar to machines used in Germany, the United States and Japan, is scheduled to be installed at the central analysis office in the Montreal International Airport by July, 1962.

Capable of doing 100,000 additions per second, it "will not put any men out of work."

PRESENT DIM OUTLOOK

The weather was also on the minds of participants in a Royal Society of Canada symposium on the Canadian northland. It was one reason they felt the outlook is not good for large-scale permanent settlements in the North.

WRONG STATION

BERLIN (AP)—A Communist East German court has given a two-year prison sentence to a Dresden railroad worker who "became addicted to the narcotic of Western radio stations." The court said the worker committed acts of sabotage "because his judgment was impaired listening to American broadcasts from West Berlin."

CHILLY STRETCH

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—The tight little isle of Barra—where a shipload of liquor was wrecked in a movie of recent years—shivered through a cold springtime this year because of the islanders' frugality. The winter coal supply was exhausted and summer prices about $1.40 a ton cheaper than winter didn't start until June 1.

TO DISCUSS FISHERIES

OTTAWA (CP)—Seventy representatives from 20 countries and international agencies will attend a week-long conference here starting Next Monday on international fishery problems. The meeting will bring together technical experts, biologists and administrators from many of the leading fishing nations of the world, the fisheries department said Wednesday.

TRAIN IN WALES

LONDON (AP)—John Profumo, British war minister, said Wednesday discussions are under way for the training of a West German panzer battalion at Castle Martin, Wales. "The present demand for training areas," he told the House of Commons, "is so great that it would otherwise be impossible for the Germans to fulfil their NATO commitments."

technical surveys said Northern Canada has plenty of mineral resources but the crucial question is whether they can ever be developed economically enough "to compete with the equally abundant resources of more hospitable lands."

Prof. Trevor Lloyd of McGill University said mineral resources "provide a singularly fragile foundation on which to build a northern empire," because they are non-renewable.

Prof. Lloyd said northern developments elsewhere could not be a fully accurate guide to the possibilities in Canada. Greenland's west coast, for example, enjoyed a milder climate than Canadian territory in the same latitudes and Russia had far less barren land in the north than Canada.

Prof. W. F. Ryan, dean of the University of New Brunswick Law School, Saint John, Monday was elected president of the Association of Canadian Law Teachers, meeting as part of the conference. He succeeded Prof. C. B. Bourne of the University of British Columbia.

Other officers named include: vice-president, Prof. Otto Lang, University of Saskatchewan; and executive member, Prof. Alexander Smith, University of Alberta.

The witness said while Mengele inspected 2,000 teen-age Jewish boys, he ordered a plank nailed onto a goalpost on the Kleinman said he knew he had to resort to trickery so he "infiltrated" a group which already had passed the test.

Crystal Ball Of A Kind

WESTON, Mass. (AP)—It's complex electronic equipment that Rev. Daniel Linehan, S.J., looks into—not a crystal ball—when he warns executives of cotton mills in Maine against possible serious loss from cotton thread breakage.

For Father Linehan, director of the Boston College observatory in Weston, can foretell just when cotton thread breakage will suddenly increase.

Or he may call up the editor of a Boston newspaper and say "Take a look at your teletype equipment." A moment later the editor returns to the telephone and says "It's garbled."

In each instance, says Father Linehan, the cause is a magnetic storm caused by a solar flare. "That's when a spurt of a large number of birds," flame kicks out from the sun.

"The flare disturbs the earth's magnetic field. It also affects home station 48 hours after they the electrical potential field." And movement of the magnetic field disrupts radio communication.

But what has all this to do with cotton threads breaking in a textile mill? Father Linehan explained.

FIBRES SPREAD

"Cotton thread is made by cohesion of one cotton fibre to another. During a magnetic storm, an electrostatic effect is set up in the fibres which causes them to spread apart. There is a lower cohesion and the thread breaks."

When there is indication of a magnetic storm, the ruddy, grey-haired observatory director for telephones the mill executives to be prepared against 200 to 300 per cent increased yarn breakage.

The magnetic storms also seem to knock out the navigating equipment of carrier pigeons.

"Normally, on long flights of birds," Father Linehan says, "about 95 per cent will be back at their home station 48 hours after they take off. During magnetic storms, sometimes only two per cent get back. The others struggle home a week later."

Sometimes when you hear cross-talk on your telephone—the sound of a conversation somewhere in the background—it is from voltage increase on lines during a magnetic storm and consequent leakage into adjacent telephone lines, the observatory director explains.

EXPORTS TO CUBA UP THREE TIMES

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian exports to Cuba in February were worth $2,094,749, nearly three times the amount in February, 1960, trade officials reported today.

It was the third month in a row that value of Canadian sales to the island republic topped the $2,000,000 mark, maintaining an upward surge that began last year when the United States clamped an embargo on Cuban trade.

Prince Philip Humanizes Throne With Aggression

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip turns 40 Saturday with his hair-line receding but his influence growing.

Aggressive, quick witted and in tune with the times, Philip has humanized the throne and the lovely woman who adorns it.

In almost every field of British life — except the arts and horse racing, which do not amuse him — the husband of the Queen increasingly makes his presence felt. Science, industry, education, the services—all have had an occasional shake-up from Philip's fluent tongue.

Not everybody likes him. Some members of the royal coterie shudder as his helicopter roars away from the Buckingham Palace lawns with Philip in the pilot's seat.

A great many churchmen would be happier if he gave up playing polo Sunday afternoons. But the majority of the British people heartily approve the glitter Philip has added to the Crown.

With Philip at her side, the Queen has matured from a shy, plumpish and often awkwardly dressed girl to a slim, composed and even sophisticated sovereign of 33.

Philip's breezy but deft informality and his wide swipes at established snobbery have shocked and staggered some of his elders.

It was Philip who successfully urged the Queen to abolish the Buckingham Palace debutante presentation parties. These had become a sort of ungainly quadrille of girls annually selected because of birth, wealth or both.

The noise of protesting debts was nothing compared to the gasps of surprise in 1955.

At the 450th anniversary banquet of the Royal College of Surgeons at Edinburgh, the surgeons' president made a long and impressive speech. At its conclusion, he turned to the guest of honor.

Fingering a silver object—model of a utensil used by doctors of old in bleeding their patients — the president said in precise and pedantic tones:

"And now, sir, may I please Your Royal Highness to accept this bleeding cup?"

Philip couldn't resist. "I can only say — it's bloody kind of you," he replied with a smile.

Philip also enjoys making sly, gentle digs at his own unique situation — the husband of a reigning queen.

During his tour of Australia, a young couple was presented to the duke.

"Mr. and Dr. Robinson," boomed the man at the head of the receiving line.

Prince Philip raised his eyebrows.

"My wife," explained Mr. Robinson, "is a doctor of philosophy, and much more important than me."

To which Philip replied: "Ah yes, we have that trouble in our family, too."

His detractors criticize him for ad-libbing too much. They say a great many of his wise-cracks are far from humorous.

But although he has difficulty resisting the urge to be funny, Philip is extremely serious.

He is constantly hammering home the message that Britain must streamline its production apparatus, must keep abreast and exceed in a world of stern competition. Aware of the rise in juvenile crime all over the land, his work with youth clubs and young organizations is magnificent.

WORKS FOR CHARITY

He works untiringly for charity, and the organizations he heads raise millions of pounds every year for the poor and handicapped.

Mechanically-minded, Philip has brought about many innovations at Buckingham Palace, including intercom phones to replace messengers — carrying flowers and dishwashing machines.

At Windsor Castle, where he and the Queen like to spend weekends, he installed a modern kitchen where he and his royal wife not only cook but wash the dishes.

The father of three children, he has insisted that they be brought up as much like other children as custom allows.

Diligence Important

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Diligence in work implies not only working hard, but using wisely every moment of the time granted us on this earth. How easy it is for all of us to say, "Yes, I want to do that some time" — and how often it is that "some time" never comes.

It has been said that no one of us will ever have any more time that he has right now. Realizing this, it behooves us to see to it that we actually DO the things that we consider really important, without frittering away our time on non-essentials until, before we know it, we have none left.

Solomon put it thus: "Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep. So shall thy poverty come as a robber, and thy want as an armed man." (Proverbs 24:33-34.)

This indicates the fact that both industry and sloth are acquired habits. If a man works

OTTAWA (CP) — More than 400 librarians are expected to attend the 16th annual Canadian Library Association conference at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B., June 17-23, the association said Wednesday. Improvement of library service will be the main topic of discussion at the week-long meeting.

hard today, it is a little easier for him to work hard tomorrow, and even easier the next day, and so forth. Conversely, if he loafs a bit today, he will loaf more easily tomorrow, and even more the next day.

Ex-Students In Contact

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—More than 30 years ago two young engineering students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology worked together on a project. Soon after they parted.

Not until a few days ago did it become evident to both that their lives had converged, with the Anglican church as the focus.

Rev. Denton Massey, recently ordained rector of St. Paul's Church in Point Edward, Ont., studied at MIT in the 1920s with a Chinese student named James Wong of Hong Kong.

In the intervening years, Mr. Massey was a member of Parliament for three terms and a successful businessman before becoming a priest.

Now he has received a letter signed by Rt. Rev. James Wong, Bishop of North Borneo.

Like Mr. Massey, Bishop Wong had embarked on his new career while still engaged in the old one. He was an engineer in the Far East when he entered the church on a part-time basis in 1938 as a deacon.

He was ordained two years later, gave up engineering in 1956 and was appointed an assistant bishop by the Archbishop of Canterbury two years ago. Last year he was consecrated as bishop in Kuching, Sarawak.

Sunny South Not An Ally Against The Common Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Living in the sunny south doesn't confer significant protection against the common cold, a survey finds.

In the southern United States, the incidence of colds was 61 per 100 persons annually, against 73 per 100 in western states, and 77 in northeastern states.

BURN DAMAGE
Burns of equal severity can cause greater injury in women than in men, because men usually have larger and deeper hair follicles, says Dr. Raymond Hinshaw of the University of Rochester School of Medicine.

Children and elderly persons also are likely to suffer relatively more severe injury. Burns of different severity may sometimes look alike. One test is to pull out a hair from the burned area. In severe burns, the hair lifts out easily and painlessly.

BATTLE TEETH
During the U.S. Civil War, soldiers literally put their teeth into the fight. "Soldiers tore the cartridges for their muzzle-loaders with their teeth," says the army's dental service. "When their front teeth gave out, they were discharged from the service. Physical qualifications up until the time of the Second World War required each man to have adequate opposing front teeth."

MISCARRIAGE RISK
Many expectant mothers, and some physicians, too, think physical activity or over-exertion during pregnancy is a main cause of miscarriages.

But this seems just not to be true, writes Dr. Carl Javert. "It is the lack of physical and mental activity in our modern civilization, rather than overactivity per se, that is responsible for spontaneous abortion."

HAIR LOSS
Excessive anxiety can bring on temporary loss of hair, but it doesn't happen often, says Dr. Albert Kligman of Philadelphia.

He cites five cases, including one man who was tried for murder three times and escaped the death penalty each time. In the fourth trial, he was convicted.

Some 10 weeks later, his hair began falling out, and eventually he became bald. But his hair began growing back again. Subsequently pardoned, the man had complete regrowth of hair when he was released.

CUT UP BODY
FREISING, West Germany (Reuters)—Rosina Bichmeier, 29, a woman accountant, was sentenced Tuesday to 14 months' imprisonment for cutting to pieces the body of an American photographer. The photographer, Robert Davis Lowrie, 42, had died of natural causes in the woman's apartment last October.

BELGIANS DRINK MORE
BONN (AP)—German beer drinkers, who for centuries have proudly regarded themselves as the world's greatest, got a shock today. The country's brewers announced the Belgians and Luxembourgers down an average of five gallons more than the 25 gallons a year the German averages.

A FRONTIER PROBLEM.

'Who Drank Anti-Freeze From Heating System?'

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NORMAN WELLS, N.W.T. (CP)—Who drank the anti-freeze from the school's heating system?

Perhaps no one. But suspicions rise easily in this frontier land.

The facts are that when the power failed in this oil-refinery camp on the Mackenzie River, the new school's heating system froze up and buckled. Investigation showed the anti-freeze liquid in the pipes was thin and diluted. Officials immediately figured that someone had drawn off a cocktail or two.

It would be the basest canard to imply that everybody north of the 60th parallel—southern boundary of the Northwest Territories and the Yukon—hits the bottle. But there are signs that the traditional affinity of alcohol for new frontiers persists here.

MINISTER'S JEST

It was Northern Affairs Minister Lindsay, a teetotaler who joked on a recent trip along the Mackenzie that new schools and new liquor stores seemed to be community features.

There are also four cocktail lounges—one at Fort Smith on the Alberta boundary, two at Yellowknife and one—the most northerly in Canada—at Inuvik on the Mackenzie delta, 200 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

Liquor remains the largest single source of income for the Northwest Territories government, but figures can be misleading. For one thing, the territorial government has few sources of revenue, and that makes liquor bulk larger. For another, both handling costs and prices run high—70 cents a pint for beer and 95 cents for a shot of over-proof rum at the neat little Inuvik bar.

Gross take from sales, licenses and liquor permits in the fiscal year 1959-60 was $1,601,000, or $73 for every man, woman and child in the total population of 22,000. The net income was less than half that, $642,000.

Then there are the unofficial sources of supply, aside from the brews that people in various regions concoct. There are reports of whole cases of liquor which contained nothing but water on arrival.

HOPEFUL SIGN
At Frobisher there has developed a hopeful note, a tribute to modern communications. It involves probably the first Eskimo radio morality play by Eskimos, dealing with liquor.

MAIN PROBLEM

But the 150-proof question—

young one - time trapper from Aklavik, and Elijah Menarik, originally from Fort George, Que., had key roles in the plot, which went something like this: Father tries unsuccessfully to persuade mother to visit the cocktail lounge, goes off himself, gets drunk and is tossed out. He comes home where visitors have called and swats a child—something Eskimos do rarely.

Mr. Okpik—both he and Mr. Menarik are northern affairs department employees at Frobisher—said the impact of the play was so strong among fellow Eskimos that some avoided him next day, unwilling to mix with such a dreadful character.

LOOKS TO FUTURE

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—President Kennedy's personal physician predicts the goal of medical science soon will be the cure of human behavior rather than the cure of human physical illness. Foreseeing a world free of physical disease in which "only death will be accepted as inevitable," Dr. Janet Travell told the graduating class of Meharry Medical College Monday.

"The challenges of the future for medicine lie in the possibilities of modifying the behavioral patterns of the human race for the good of society."
